

Great opportunity to push ahead with your speaking career!

Unique Speaker Bureau are sponsoring the Saturday event for the PSASA Convention 2018. The theme of the convention is XLR8 and we will help you accelerate your speaking career. People who attend the convention will have a very special opportunity. USB are bringing a team of experts to watch you present your best material and give you constructive help to improve your performance. While doing that they are also looking for undiscovered talent to promote to their clients.

People who attend the convention will get the chance to present to USB for 10 minutes and then get 5 minutes of advice from their professional team. This may just be the opportunity to propel you onto the international stage. Do not waste this chance.

To qualify for this opportunity you have to register for the PSASA convention 2018 at full fee and then sign up on Quicket to the USB event.

If you have already registered for the convention go back to the registration page and sign up for the USB event.

Hurry, the USB presentation opportunities are limited and will go on a first come first served basis.
